

A growing Health team that delivers

50% growth in people across our UK and US offices

STRAT7

incite

Here are some of our new joiners and what they think of Incite:

"I was attracted to join Incite by the team: their expertise, passion for serving clients, and strategic focus to deliver quality insights and make them actionable."

Renee Brandon

"I joined Incite because of the amazing, supportive team here and the huge opportunity for professional development."

Jillian Leites

"At Incite, I'm constantly evolving my ways of thinking and doing things. Incite has taught me the importance of creatively synthesising knowledge into a coherent narrative so that clients have a defined path forward"

Shreya Saraf

"Incite stands out for its people. The diversity of backgrounds mixed with unparalleled passion and a sense of pride for their work motivates you to strive for success."

Gintare Greenfeld

"Incite has close relationship dynamics with clients and it has given me the chance for a variety of challenging opportunities that go further than just health market research."

Greg Hyatt

"What drew me to Incite was the emphasis on strategically addressing client questions and needs to deliver impactful insights which inspire action and influence decision making."

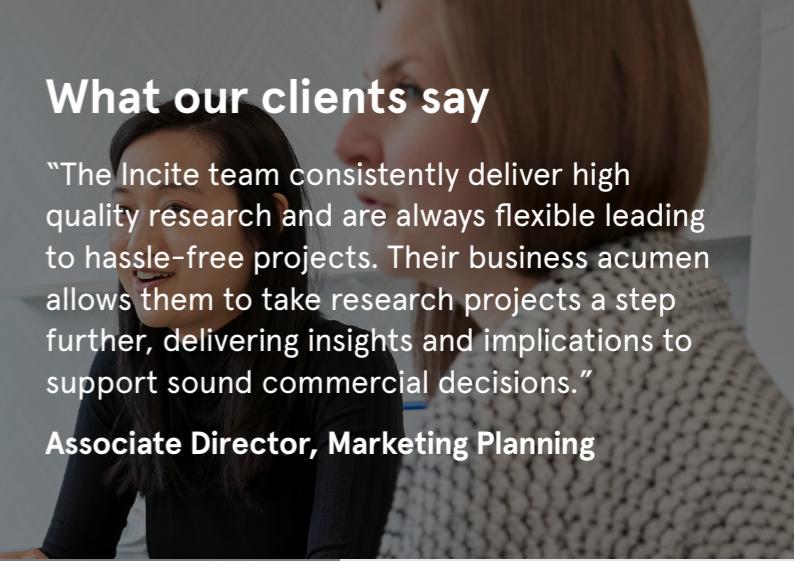

Aya Stoyanova

What our clients say

"The Incite team consistently deliver high quality research and are always flexible leading to hassle-free projects. Their business acumen allows them to take research projects a step further, delivering insights and implications to support sound commercial decisions."

Associate Director, Marketing Planning

Why Incite is a trusted partner in health:

1 / We are a collaborative partner

We have unique, tried-and-tested ways of working that ensure internal stakeholders are engaged, aligned and inspired throughout a project.

2 / We don't stop at interesting

Our consulting tools, combined with our interest in your business success, ensure we go a step further. We work hard to ensure our outputs guide and facilitate your business decisions and actions.

3 / We are human centric

We adopt a think people first ideology and are well-versed in psychology and behavioural sciences. We apply these to provide richer insights, leading to improved tactics and strategies.

4 / We are methodology agnostic

We work equally across qualitative and quantitative methodologies. We don't have a fixed toolbox, instead we build a bespoke methodology to address your research and business challenge.

5 / We bring a wide range of experience and skills

Our team comes from a range of backgrounds and our therapeutic expertise is vast. We also draw upon the broader team beyond health who support us to maximise our capabilities.

Contact us

incite-global.com

Lizzie Eckardt
+44 (0)7917 364485
lizzie.eckardt@incite-global.com

Sarah Rosen
+44 (0)7825 072382
Sarah.rosen@incite-global.com